Northern Ireland Omnibus Survey: Technical Notes

1.1 The Sample

The sample for the May survey consisted of a systematic random sample of addresses selected from the Land and Property Services Agency list of private addresses. This is the most up-to-date listing of private households and is made available to the Northern Ireland Statistics and Research Agency for research purposes. People living in institutions (though not in private households in such institutions) are excluded. A total of 2,200 addresses were selected for interview.

The Land and Property Services Agency provides a good sampling frame of addresses, but contains no information about the number of people living at an address. Further selection stages were therefore required to convert the listing of addresses to a listing of individuals from which one person (the 'selected respondent') is chosen to complete the questionnaire.

Interviewers are instructed to call at each address issued in their assignments. At the first stage of the survey, they have to identify the number of households resident at the address and, where necessary, select one using a selection table (Table 1.1).

Number of households	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12
Household selected	1	1	2	3	4	4	2	7	6	8	6	6

The interviewers then list all members of the household who are eligible for inclusion in the sample: that is, all persons currently aged 16 or over living at the address. From this listing of eligible adults, the interviewer's computer randomly selects one adult. This person, the selected respondent, is then asked to complete the interview.

1.2 The Fieldwork

Addresses were issued to a panel of 189 interviewers in the middle of April 2008. The fieldwork period was 1st May to the 31st May 2008.

	Number	Percent
Set sample of addresses	2200
- Ineligible known	225
- Ineligible unknown (pre-adjustment)	52
- Eligible known (pre-adjustment)	1923
- Ineligible (after adjustment)	230
Eligible (after adjustment) <sup>1</sup>	1970	100
Fully co-operating	1178	60
Partially co-operating	5	0
Total co-operating	1183	60
Refusal to co-operate	490	25
Non-contact	250	13

<sup>1</sup> The adjusted eligible households include all pre-adjustment eligible households and a proportion of the pre-adjustment “eligibility unknown” households. The proportion of the pre-adjustment ‘eligibility unknown’ households reclassified as eligible is set at the proportion of pre-adjustment eligible households in the set sample of households: 90%.

1.3 Representativeness of the Sample

In any survey there is a possibility of non-response bias. Non-response bias arises if the characteristics of non-respondents differ from those of respondents in such a way that they are reflected in the responses given in the survey. Accurate estimates of non-response bias can be obtained by comparing characteristics of the achieved sample with the distribution of the same characteristics in the population at the time of sampling. Such comparisons are usually made to the current Census of Population data.

To assess how accurately the Omnibus Survey sample reflects the population of Northern Ireland the sample has been compared with characteristics of the Northern Ireland population from the 2001 Census of Population (Table 1.3). The Omnibus Sample has also been compared to the achieved sample of the Continuous Household Survey (CHS).

	2001 Census	CHS 2006/07 (all members of household 16+)	Omnibus (all members of household 16+)	Selected Respondent
Age
16-24	16	15	15	15
25-34	19	18	16	15
35-49	27	28	27	27
50-64	20	22	23	23
65 and over	17	17	19	19
Gender
Male	48	46	48	45
Female	52	54	52	55
Base=100%	1,292,169	5161	2333	1183

1.4 Weighting

Selecting only one individual for interview at each sampled address means that the probability of selection for the survey is inversely related to the size of the household. In other words individuals living in large households have a lower chance of being included in the sample than individuals in small households.

Before analysis, all households which provided a selected respondent are examined and the data are weighted in relation to the number of eligible adults at the address derived from the details of household structure recorded by interviewers on the questionnaire. This weighting process adjusts the results to those that would have been achieved if the sample had been drawn as a random sample of adults rather than of addresses. In this sample 32% of households consisted of one adult, while 48% of households consisted of two adults. 13% of households contained three adults, while 7% of households consisted of four or more adults.

Note: on occasions, in tables showing weighted data, the sum of column totals does not equal the grand total. This is due to the rounding process associated with weighting. The percentages in the tables are based on weighted data but the totals are unweighted.

Number of adults 16 and over	Number	Household Size x Number	Relative Scaled Weight
1	381	381	0.507072
2	573	1146	1.014144
3	150	450	1.521217
4	49	196	2.028289
5	22	110	2.535362
6	7	42	3.042434
8	1	8	4.056579

$$R = \frac{1183}{2333} = 0.507072$$

To demonstrate the effects of weighting on the responses given by selected respondents, the question “Do you pay membership of any kind to enable you to use sports facilities?” was analysed both weighted and unweighted (Tables 1.5 and 1.6).

Table 1.5 (Weighted)

	Frequency	Valid Percent
Yes	216	33.8
No	420	65.9
Refusal	1	.1
Dont Know	2	.2
Total	637	100.0

	Frequency	Valid Percent

1.5 Sampling Error

No sample is likely to reflect precisely the characteristics of the population it is drawn from because of both sampling and non-sampling errors. An estimate of the amount of error due to the sampling process can be calculated. For a simple random sample design, in which every member of the sampled population has an equal and independent chance of inclusion in the sample, the sampling error of any percentage,  $p$ , can be calculated by the formula:

$$\text{s.e. (p)} = \sqrt{p*(100 - p)/n}$$

where n is the number of respondents on which the percentage is based. The sample for the NI Omnibus Survey is drawn as a random sample, and thus this formula can be used to calculate the sampling error of any percentage estimate from the survey.

A confidence interval for the population percentage can be calculated by the formula

$$95 \text{ per cent confidence interval} = p \pm 1.96 * \text{s.e. (p)}$$

If 100 similar, independent samples were chosen from the same population, 95 of them would be expected to yield an estimate for the percentage, p, within this confidence interval.

The absence of design effects in the survey, and therefore of the need to calculate complex standard errors, means that standard statistical tests of significance (which assume random sampling) can be applied directly to the data.

1.6 Notation

The percentages quoted in tables have been rounded to the nearest number. Where the base was less than 100, the actual number is given rather than the percentages denoted by the column label.

The following symbols are used:

category not applicable - cell is empty
figure less than 0.5%. - cell is '0'
